HONEYMOON IN ETERNITY

Oldster couple wave goodbye — then sail into killer typhoon

An aging couple spent their 53rd anniversary aboard their beloved sloop Greta, just as they had done every year since 1935. But this time they knew they were sailing to their deaths — in the raging fury of Typhoon Nina!

"WE'LL DIE TOGETHER," said Terji Haaseljell as he and his beloved wife Senta spurned goodbye. The couple sailed out of Manila Bay — into the teeth of a killer storm.

Loving couple Terji and Senta Haaseljell chose to die together in the sea rather than spend a single moment apart. So they sailed out of Manila Bay only hours before the killer typhoon roared into the Philippines with winds topping 127 m.p.h.

Senta had only a few short weeks left before the cancer that ravaged her body would snuff out her life. Now in their 80s, they were painfully aware that one could not bear the agony of being parted from the other.

"They knew they were going to their graves," longtime friend Domingo Flores said. "I stood on the dock and watched them sail away as I had done so many times on happier days.

'They knew they were going to their graves'

They had their honeymoon on Greta and every year on the anniversary of their marriage they would spend a couple of weeks alone together, just cruising through the islands. I was always on the dock to wave farewell.

"But this time when they sailed off, they knew they were going to their deaths. They knew the typhoon was a killer storm and would destroy them and their boat.

"Sadly, I knew it, too. But I didn't try to stop them. Without Senta, Terji's anguish would have killed him. They chose to die together."

Flores said Terji and Senta had been childhood sweethearts in their native Norway and, after their marriage, had sailed around the world before settling in the Philippines after World War 2.

"They were the most adoring couple I have ever known," he said. "They were always together.

"When I watched them sailing away into certain death, they waved at me from the stern. I had never seen them look happier. They were going on their honeymoon again."

TODAY'S SHARKS CALLED SISSIES

A 7,000-pound, 42 foot-long prehistoric shark on display at the South Carolina State Museum in Columbia may look huge, but it's just a baby compared to the real thing. The creature is a scaled-down version of the otodus megalodon, a shark that roamed the seas millions of years ago. The real shark grew to 100 feet long.

The firing squad that couldn't shoot straight

Bungled execution took 20 minutes

Outraged human rights officials report that a Nigerian Army firing squad made up of bad shots blasted away for 20 minutes before it managed to execute five condemned prisoners.

"I am opposed to the killing of human beings under any circumstances, but taking pot-shots at five blindfolded men until they are dead is beyond cruelty," said French human rights activist Yves Martin.

According to the Nigerian News Agency, the five prisoners were convicted on charges of armed robbery for were sentenced to die before the firing squad.

On the day of the execution the condemned men, all between the ages of 24 and 30, were marched in front of a 10-man military firing squad and blindfolded.

"This was a public execution," Martin said. "The firing squad was commanded to take aim and fire, but they only succeeded in wounding three prisoners — and completely missed two others."

Martin said the firing squad reloaded while the wounded prisoners were propped up against the jail wall.

"This time the firing squad managed to kill two of the men, but had to repeat the

Gotcha! Cops bust drug dealer when suitcase switch backfires

By PETE COONT

A cocaine courier tried to slip past airport authorities by taking a stranger's suitcase from a luggage carousel, but his luck ran out when cops opened the bag and found it contained marijuana!

Police in Raleigh, N.C., said 26-year-old Everton Reid's troubles started shortly after he arrived at the Raleigh-Durham Airport on a flight from Miami.

"He was standing there watching his bag going round and round on the carousel and he wouldn't claim it," said Deputy Ronnie Stewart of the Wake County Sheriff's Department.

As it turned out, Reid had a good reason for not wanting to claim his suitcase with an Overton looking over his shoulder.

The bag had 10 ounces of cocaine inside. Instead, Reid picked out a roadside gym bag that had been left on board from another flight.

Reid was walking away with the stranger's bag when sheriff's deputies and a state Bureau of Investigation agent stopped him and searched his luggage.

"We questioned him as to why it didn't have the same name on the bag as his ticket, and he said that the name on the bag was a name that he used sometimes," Deputy Stewart said. Reid stood by as officers looked through the bag.

"He said, 'These are my shoes, and this is my hair blower, and this is my trunk,'" said Stewart.

But when police officers pulled a bag of marijuana out of the piece of luggage, Reid had nothing more to say.

Reid immediately pleaded guilty to two counts of trafficking in cocaine.

He faces up to 30 years in prison when he is sentenced.

Court tells smooching sweethearts . . .

No more kissing!

By SUSAN JAMISON

Sweethearts Jill Rule and John Cachia can be hauled into court for kissing!

John's ex-wife has gotten a court order banning them from puckering up on the street where she lives, and officials are required to enforce it.

LOVERS Jill Rule and John Cachia

The cuddly pair are the first British lovers in history to be forbidden to smooch whenever and wherever they choose, but they say they plan to respect the judge's decision.

"We agreed to this strange kissing and cuddling ban to keep everybody happy," said Jill, a divorced mother of two.

John's former wife Rita went to court asking Judge Peter Guldstone to bar John and Jill from her street in Milton Keynes, England. She wanted them forbidden from coming within 100 yards of the house where she lives with her two teenage sons and her new lover.

During court proceedings, Rita, 46, said she'd seen the couple "demonstratively kissing and hugging outside her house."

But John, who lives less than a mile from his former mate, denied her claim.

Taking both sides into account, the judge decided a kissing ban was the only way to resolve the conflict.

"The most ridiculous thing is the fact that John can kiss and cuddle anybody else he wants in that street," says Jill.

"It's only me he is banned from kissing and cuddling!"

JUDGE says couple can no longer smooch in public.

Devil's Triangle fear keeps sailors in port

Five people have disappeared into the waters of the Devil's Triangle since 1977 — all on the same date of February 13.

And sailors in Georgetown, S.C., have become so spooked by the strange coincidence that many swear to stay in port on that date just to be safe.

"I don't think I'll go fishing on February 13 next year," said Dean Jordan, whose father and cousin both drowned on that ill-fated date back in 1982.

Jordan's father disappeared after leaving on a shad fishing trip in their 18-foot boat, while fishermen have met tragedy, too.

David Browder and John Gore went in search of a missing friend on Feb 13, 1977, in a 16-foot outboard.

The friend was found the next day, but Browder and Gore disappeared without a trace.

Their bodies were found later miles away from where they disappeared.

This year, again on February 13, harbor boat pilot Wright Skinner Jr. fell off a boat ladder and sank out of sight.

Spook chasers have phantoms on the run

PSYCHIC researcher Robin Furman, center, and the Grimsby Ghostbusters prepare to set off on another mission into the unknown.

GHOSTBUSTERS

By DOUGLAS LAURENCE

A hand-picked team of psychics has taken on a spine-tingling challenge — ridding the world of ghosts and things that go bump in the night.

The seven men and women who've teamed up to probe mysteries of the supernatural call themselves the Paranormal Scientific Investigation Team.

But team leader Robin Furman says neighbors in their hometown northwest of London have nicknamed the English group the Grimsby Ghostbusters.

They drove around in their own Ghostbusters' bus — a 1960 Austin Princess Armed with computers, cameras and sensitive monitoring equipment, the spook chasers have already been called in to trace a housewife's mystery voices and investigate the case of the old man who appeared out of a closet to slap a little boy, leaving visible red marks on his skin.

And now they're working on a mean-spirited spook that smashes mirrors in a downtown office.

Furman says, "Of course some people scoff at us.

"But those who laugh may one day find themselves haunted.

"Then they'll be very glad to have the Grimsby Ghostbusters."

KIDS GO ON $25G SPREE!

By PETE COONE

Two teens who found $25,000 in what they thought was an abandoned car went on a wild spending spree, living it up until three armed men showed up and demanded all the money back!

Capt. Alfred Walters of North Bergen, N.J., said the bizarre case began to unfold when a restaurant owner took the money and locked it in the trunk of his car because it was too late for him to make a bank deposit.

"While the car was parked in front of a friend's house someone broke a window and stole the radio," Walters told The NEWS.

"Sometime later these two 15-year-old buddies came by and pulled the latch to take a look in the trunk."

The two teens couldn't believe their luck when they opened the trunk to find a bag containing $25,000.

Walters said the pair went on a wild spending spree, buying expensive clothes, jewelry and cigars that they lit with $100 bills.

But the boys' luck didn't last.

"They really spread the cash around and word got out," Walters said. "All of a sudden three men knocked on the door and demanded their money back.

"They were armed and threatened they would do whatever was necessary to get the money."

Walters said the extortionists had no connection to the restaurant owner who lost the money in the first place, but the two boys and their families paid the men more than $20,000.

Walters said, "The boys' parents were very cooperative and helpful."

Police arrested 20-year-old Dalip Kaul of Brooklyn when the meeting took place. Kaul was charged with robbery, extortion and making terroristic threats.

Two accomplices remained at large.

Walters said the two teens were charged by juvenile authorities with theft. None of

Reincarnation proof from the time of the pharaohs

Baby born wearing 3,000-year-old anklet

THE SPHINX is a symbol of the mysteries of ancient Egypt.

By LAUREL ROWE

Amazing baby Aisha Sabry was born with a tarnished, 3,000-year-old Egyptian anklet on her tiny leg — and experts say the mind-boggling birth provides the most astonishing evidence of reincarnation the world has ever seen!

"This is sensational. It's the proof we've been waiting for," psychic scientist Herman Gallad told reporters in Alexandria, Egypt.

"This child has lived before. There is no other logical explanation for all the circumstances present here.

"She has given us all a reason to rejoice."

Dark-eyed Aisha came into the world January 3 in an Alexandria hospital, the third daughter of Egyptian janitor Mohsen Sabry and his wife Kamala. Dumbfounded doctors say the birth was perfectly normal — except for the ancient anklet found dangling from the baby's leg.

"The anklet was obviously very old and much too large for a baby's ankle," said Dr. Osman Rashad, who delivered the bouncing babe. "It could have slipped right off her leg during birth but for some unexplained reason, it didn't.

"We were all flabbergasted, to say the least. Since there seemed to be no medical explanation, we asked the people at the Institute of Alexandria for help."

Stunned scholars examined the strange silver anklet and found it bore the cartouche — or emblem — of King Ramses II, who ruled Egypt from 1292 to 1225 B.C.

And archeologists, using a sophisticated dating process have determined that the mind-boggling relic is indeed more than 3,000 years old.

'This child has lived before,' says expert

"There is no doubt that it is authentic," said noted scientist Mahmoud Badawy.

"It is a very ornate piece of jewelry from a very opulent period in Egyptian history.

"It's previously the type of ankle ornament worn by Ramses' favored ladies. The only questions now are, is this one of the King's ladies reincarnated? And if not, how did the anklet wind up on the body of this newborn 30 centuries later?"

But to reincarnationist Herman Gallad and other experts in the supernatural, the answer is obvious.

"We have never had such clear and convincing evidence of reincarnation or transmigration of the soul as we have here," Gallad said.

"Try as they might, the doubters will be able to find no other possible explanation.

"This discovery should be a time of rejoicing for all of us.

"We believe if this child has lived before and will live again, so will you and I."

Dumb newlyweds in China need lessons in the birds & the bees

Most adults in China are so ignorant in the ways of the world that classes are being set up all across the country — to teach naive newlyweds how to make love.

"Many people simply do not know what sex is," said Dr. Chen Hurmin, who teaches one of the hanky-panky schools.

She said she was shocked to discover that even college professors often don't know that you have to make love to have a baby.

"China was for a very long time a closed-off and backward society," Dr. Chen said. "Sex was a taboo subject.

"Parents do not tell their children about it and only now is sex education being taught in the schools.

"The strange thing is the higher the education level, the less people know about sex. I'm thinking about recruiting foreign workers and

Baffled doctors say he's the world's greatest faith healer

The priest who works miracles

The Rev. John Petty may be the greatest faith healer in the world. The British clergyman claims to have cured everything from multiple sclerosis and cancer to spinal meningitis — and baffled scientists agree!

By HENRY WEBER

"I don't know how he does it, but John Petty is probably the best non-medical healer in the world," said Richard Starita, a urologist from London.

"His cures are instantaneous. They are permanent. And in spite of the fact that he tackles the most virulent and dreaded diseases known to man, his success rate is 85 percent or more."

The 52-year-old priest from Coventry, England, wholeheartedly agrees with Dr. Starita. That's because he takes no credit for curing anyone.

He gives all the credit to God.

"Healing is the work of God," said Father Petty. "I act only as a channel.

"My work is not a theatrical act. It is about sick people getting well through the love of God."

Father Petty discovered his unsung ability to heal the sick 30 years ago, when hospital patients mysteriously professed to feel better after he touched them during prayer.

Since then he has treated thousands of sick and dying people by laying his hands on their heads. Here's a sample of his cures:

● A multiple sclerosis victim taken to Rev. Petty in a wheelchair walked home a healthy man.

● A lung cancer victim who had been given only two weeks to live by doctors peaced with the clergyman, recovered fully and is thriving today.

● A woman with cancerous tumors sprouting all over her body sought the priest's help. To the astonishment of doctors who had written her off, the tumors disappeared.

Father Petty also cured one of his own sons of spinal meningitis. He even banished a woman's crippling depression — and enabled another to have the baby that doctors said she could never have.

"These cures and many more have been documented in interviews and with scientific tests," said Dr. Starita. "My colleagues and I have the highest regard for Rev. Petty.

"No matter what you think about God and healing, you must give the man credit for what he has been able to do with the power of faith alone."

The clergyman himself said: "I can offer no explanation other than that the Lord moves in mysterious ways. It is very humbling. I have seen such wonderful things."

The REV. John Petty has cured some of the world's most dreaded diseases but he gives all the credit to God. Experts say the priest's success rate is 85 percent or more.

Do You Have The Golden Cross Of Fatima Yet?

Read how it brought thousands of dollars... a new house...a sensational job...and much, much more to people just like you.

This is the famous GOLDEN CROSS OF FATIMA — the last Cross of its kind ever allowed to be sent to America. Those who take possession of this Cross have the opportunity to gain unbelievable Miracles — for the Hallowed Earth of Fatima is sealed within the chambers of this grand Cross.

And now, if you take possession of the GOLDEN CROSS at once — see how quickly your own Miracles come true!

FATIMA

The very name brings forth the magnificent images. Miracle after Miracle. For more than 67 years, people having wonderful things happen by the Holy Earth of Fatima.

It's as if there is something absolutely "magical" about the Sacred Ground there. Something that "attracts" people in a special way.

Think about the Miraculous "power" of the Hallowed Earth of Fatima. About the great Miracle on the soil of Fatima witnessed by 70,000 men, women and children. About the thousands upon thousands of people who flock to Fatima day after day to gain Miracles of Health, Wealth and Happiness. About the Papal Nuncio (John Paul VI) coming to Fatima — with one million believers — to honor the Hallowed Earth there.

Think about it. All those people coming to Fatima to get rich. To gain Good Health. To find Love. To gain Good Jobs. To find Luck and Good Fortune. To be near to the Hallowed Ground of Fatima — so their dreams and hopes can come true.

Now think of YOURSELF next to the Hallowed Earth of Fatima.

But the problem is, Fatima is far, far away — thousands of miles from America — on the other side of the ocean.

But what can you do if you want a Miracle and you can't go all the way to Portugal — (where Fatima is) — to be near the Sacred Earth there?

You do what the other people have done — people who gained the wonderful Miracles reported right on this page.

You take immediate possession of the GOLDEN CROSS OF FATIMA.

This magnificent Cross has been made for you right in Fatima. And it contains the Sacred Earth of Fatima — the famed "Miracle" soil that draws people from all over the world. With this Cross, you can have the Hallowed Earth of Fatima at your side — morning, noon and night.

And with the Hallowed Earth of Fatima at your side, do you realize what wonderful Miracles you can enjoy?

Read these reports. They're from people just like you who took immediate possession of the GOLDEN CROSS OF FATIMA as soon as they had the chance.

- "This past Tuesday I received the beautiful Cross. Right away I felt good having the Earth of Fatima near me. So I went to play Bingo, and with this wonderful Cross, I won nearly one thousand dollars."
- "I ordered the Cross and since then I have had tremendous good luck. Now, we are moving into our own beautiful home. Thanks so very much."
- "Thank you for sending me the Golden Fatima Cross. A week after I received it, I got the great job I had been trying to get for months."
- "It happened so fast! Last Monday I saw the notice about the Fatima Gold Cross and I send for it. Last Friday I receive it. Saturday I take it with me to the casino. And I win $2,275.00!"

Will you enjoy a Miracle also?

You must realize this. Having the Sacred Earth of Fatima near you can possibly be one of the best things to ever happen to you.

Think of the Miracles of Fatima. Now ask yourself:

What special "power" exists to make the Sacred Hallowed Earth of Fatima help people throughout the world fulfill their wishes . . . their desires . . . their hopes and prayers?

The answer why for this is FAITH. A series of Miracles witnessed in Fatima — Miracles so "powerful" they became famous throughout the world. Miracles witnessed by more than 70,000 people. Because of this, the very ground there "became" Hallowed — and people came to the Hallowed Earth to have their prayers answered . . . and hopes fulfilled . . . their dreams come true.

People came to Fatima to gain the Miracles that might have been their own.

How about YOUR Miracle?

It is this way for you. Picture the GOLDEN CROSS OF FATIMA containing the Hallowed Earth of Fatima) safely in your possession.

Now picture these wonderful things happening to you:

- You receive the GOLDEN CROSS OF FATIMA, and almost immediately you receive thousands upon thousands of dollars in cash.
- You receive the GOLDEN CROSS OF FATIMA, and almost immediately you find wonderful lasting love and all those you adore are faithful to you always.
- You receive the GOLDEN CROSS OF FATIMA, and almost immediately you become a "winner" — winning at bingo, at the lottery, at the race track, at casinos (wherever you go, you hit the jackpot!).
- You receive the GOLDEN CROSS OF FATIMA, and almost immediately you have your own business, your health (all new sensations) where you and your family can live a life of joy and fulfillment.
- You receive the GOLDEN CROSS OF FATIMA, and almost immediately you're presented with a beautiful shiny new car — with very expensive sparkling jewelry — even with your own airplane and boat!

The question is, what will these things REALLY happen to you?

It depends on you. It depends if you're ready for a Miracle. It depends if you REALLY want a Miracle.

If you do want a Miracle, decide how quickly you want the Hallowed Earth of Fatima at your side. The Hallowed Earth of Fatima that has been blessed with Miracles. The Hallowed Earth that draws people from all over the world.

Your GOLDEN CROSS OF FATIMA comes with a Certificate of Authenticity legally attesting: 1) that it contains Earth taken directly from the Miraculous Hallowed Grounds of OUR LADY in Fatima, Portugal and 2) that it has been placed with your Gold Card in the special

...YOU RECEIVE YOUR GOLDEN CROSS OF FATIMA — ...JOIN MIRACLE YOU WANT HAPPENING TO YOU — LET ...E SURE SO WE INSCRIBE YOUR MIRACLE IN "THE GOOD WORKS BOOK". (The book tells about people who receive the GOLDEN CROSS OF FATIMA and then enjoy amazing Good Fortune.)

But please act at once. Right now, we have only 700 GOLDEN CROSSES OF FATIMA. (Each one has rested only a Earth from the Miraculous Grounds of OUR LADY of Fatima in Portugal.) These Crosses have been created at Fatima so you can gain the Miracle you need.

Is this what college kids call fun?

FRAT HOUSE TEEN DRINKS HIMSELF TO DEATH

DID THE KAMIKAZE COCKTAILS kill James Callahan?

Easygoing college kid James Callahan was a handsome, all-American boy who had the world on a string till the night he attended a rip-roaring fraternity party — and drank himself to death!

Callahan, 18, died after downing a number of potent drinks called kamikaze cocktails during a Lambda Chi Alpha initiation party at New Jersey's Rutgers University, prosecutor Alan Rockoff said.

"It was one of those parties where there was an awful lot of drinking going on," Rockoff said. "It's a real tragedy."

Investigators said a first aid unit was called to the Lambda Chi Alpha house in New Brunswick, N.J., when Callahan became seriously ill after the house party broke up.

Ninety minutes later, the fun-loving fraternity pledge was pronounced dead — leaving friends to mourn and shake their heads in disbelief.

"All he wanted was to have a good time," said buddy Jeff Grunert, 17. "Everyone who knew him knew he was a real guy. This initiation ball is ridiculous. It's a possible death sentence."

A medical investigator said the youth died when his lungs filled with his own vomit. Tests to determine how much alcohol Callahan had consumed are not yet complete, he said.

"It's all such a waste," wept one classmate. "He was a nice guy and he shouldn't have died this way.

"Nobody should push anyone else into something like this — something that could kill them."

Rockoff said he hasn't decided whether to bring criminal charges in the case.

COPS FOIL LANDSCAPER CAPER

Two shady characters had second thoughts after cops said they drove a truck up to a vacant house — and stole a tree out of the front yard.

The suspects, who are landscapers, used a hydraulic shovel to dig up the 25-foot magnolia tree in Alpharetta, Ga. They replanted the tree at another home several miles away.

"They said they were really sorry they did it," said police officer Mark Smith. "They said they were going to put the tree back, but they were afraid they would be caught."

Fed up judge sets woman's bail at $5 billion

A judge who was tired of an accused prostitute getting out of jail every time she was arrested has set her bail at $5 billion.

Court Judge J. Dominique Olcumendy said he increased the bail of 25-year-old Dorothy M. Toines every time she was arrested.

It climbed to $3,000 jumped to $50,000 and then soared to the mind-boggling sum of $2.5 million.

But because of overcrowding in Miami Florida prisons Toines was released on her own recognizance allegedly without paying a cent.

Hoping to get the attention of jailers, Judge Olcumendy set bail at $5 billion.

"It's a very high amount," the judge said. "The next time she is arrested, someone at the jail might think twice about letting her out."

[illegible] grabs guns & fights back

Bulletproof dad!

SHOT twice in his head, Robert Ellis launched a counterattack on the gunman.

Shot twice in the face at close range, Robert Ellis rolled out of bed, grabbed one pistol from his nightstand and another from the gun cabinet and shot it out with the would-be assassin.

By PETE COOKE

Ellis was shot in the face a third time during the gun battle in his Hollywood home before the assailant fled, said Los Angeles police.

The wealthy record producer at psychiatry clinic hourly survived the attack and returned home to recuperate after spending two months in the hospital.

Detectives have charged two men in the case but say the investigation is far from over. Much of their attention has focused on Ellis' 21-year-old son David, who told police he slept through the shooting in which 13 shots were exchanged.

"It's difficult for me to comprehend that he didn't hear it," said David's brother, Robert Ellis II. "A sound sleeper, yes, but how you could hear a .357 magnum go off in a closed house? It gets your attention."

Cops arrested Thomas Dal Lahan, a 27-year-old handyman who said he was offered $50,000 to kill Ellis and arranged for Eric Barnes, 22, to do the job for half the money. Lahan and Barnes are in jail on charges of burglary and attempted first-degree murder. David Ellis has been picked up twice for questioning, but has not been charged while detectives continue to investigate whether he was the one who hired Callahan in order to get a share of his father's $3 million estate.

On the night of the attack

GUN BATTLE as his home did not awaken David Ellis.

Dr. Ellis' peaceful sleep was shattered when a gunman entered his room and ripped four Robert II said the assailant quit repeating hurtful that ruin with a shrieking, chopping propeller blade after suspect. The gunman then with it Dr. Ellis' face and pulled the trigger.

"It hit him under the nose," Robert said. "It did a turn and went down through his tongue, went out underneath his chin bone, destroyed his chin bone, went in and out of his stomach, but his hand and went into the face."

The next bullet ripped through Dr. Ellis' cheek, went down his neck and lodged just below his shoulder.

Police said the gunman left Ellis for dead and backed the doctor's Cadillac up to the door in order to throw his body in the trunk. But Ellis came through the bedroom door with a gun in each hand and exchanged shots with the attacker. In the shoot-out Ellis was hit a third time and wounded in the mouth.

Neighbors all around the Ellis home woke up to the sound of gunfire and called police. Officers arrived to find the gunman had died.

David Ellis, whose bedroom is only 20 feet down the hall from his father's, said he was asleep until police knocked on his door.

Model reveals bizarre secret of shrimpy singer Prince

Love is a no-no for pipsqueak rock star

A gorgeous young model says she carried on a month-long fling with racy rock star Prince — and he never made love to her.

The dynamic purple-clad pipsqueak is famed for stage shows reeking with passion and drenched with sexy dancing and suggestive songs. But in real life, the mini 5-foot-2 superstar is shy and romantic and would rather hug than make love, claims stunning dark-haired British model Debbie Watson.

If Prince had said, 'Let's make love' I'd have done it like a shot," confessed Debbie. "Sadly, he never did.

It was the most bizarre relationship I have ever known. Yet I adored Prince and I still do.

The stories you hear about his girls that he is studied, timid and resenting in bed are made up to boost his image."

The 23-year-old brought out the pixie Prince in a flashy L.A. disco like he wanted her to wear him as his recording studio the next day and then saw her back to his hotel room, she was expecting a night of passion. But all he did was hug her and then lay down and put his head in her lap.

She expected to spend the entire night and was shocked when he told his bodyguard to take her home.

"I had I been a one-night stand the hadn't really touched. I'd have understood but we were behaving

"But he sought my company . . . just about every day for a month.

MAKE ANYONE DO ANYTHING

YOU MENTALLY COMMAND— WITH YOUR MIND ALONE!

Now! Command . . . control . . . dominate anyone you choose with the power of your mind—and your mind alone. Say nothing. Yet, miraculously see people—even perfect strangers—do exactly what you silently command them to do. Willingly . . . cheerfully . . . and quickly!

You can do it . . . because you have unknowingly done it your entire life. Accept the proposal offered to you for a limited time in this announcement—and I'll prove it to you!

I would be overjoyed if I read an ad like that. But I'd be highly intrigued as you are now.

Having the ability to dictate others is probably your secret wish. One which you believe could never come true.

Well, think again! Your secret wish is about to be granted. Very shortly, you are going to demonstrate that fact with any person you choose. On this exciting occasion, you are going to project a thought command to that individual. Now one word will be uttered by you.

YET THAT PERSON IS GOING TO FOLLOW YOUR SILENT COMMAND TO THE LETTER . . . WITHOUT EVER KNOWING THAT YOU GAVE THE ORDER!

Only you will know why he or she is acting as your submissive slave. He/she might do exactly as you direct!

Your next test will be even more astonishing! You'll command not just one but four or five people. This time you'll mentally project a thought command to this entire group.

AGAIN, WONDROUSLY, THAT ENTIRE GROUP IS GOING TO PERFORM YOUR SILENT COMMAND EXACTLY AS YOU WILLED IT!

Again, they will have absolutely no idea what power that their seemingly voluntary actions are really dictated by you. Why should they? You paid nothing, made no gestures. You stated your wishes only one way . . . mentally!

Yet, you'll reap even these astounding results. In the months and years to come, you are going to intensify your mental ability to dominate others in ways that may bring you thousands of extra dollars . . . the love of someone you deeply desire . . . status and position you've considered unattainable—until today!

- If you will, the toughest prospect will be putty in your hands. The large sign-a-sales contract will sell itself—will be irresistible.
- In business situations, your ideas will be the ones enthusiastically approved by the "top" brass—just as if you were the boss' kid.
- In your private life, you will capture the affection of anyone you fancy—even at first sight.
- At social gatherings, you will be regarded as the leader—the one who makes decisions which must be unquestionably obeyed at once!

Yes, wherever you go, whatever you do, everyone you meet will come under your silent control. Do with them as you will!

Does all this sound impossible? Not only have

YOU WILL BELIEVE IT . . . AND YOU WILL ACHIEVE IT!

Stop and think for a moment. Haven't most successful people you've met or read about been those which the Word "Impossible" ?

You and I know differently. Everyone's "super hypnosis" and stage hypnosis today. Sure you still are a skeptic. I'm more than willing to give you the opportunity to make a fool out of me!

Along with the chance to prove me wrong, I'll also give you the "rush free" chance to prove I'm right . . . plus a free gift. Here's the proposal:

I am now releasing an unusual manual on a subject which has fascinated mankind for ages. That subject is personal dominance.

In short, with the power of the mind to project thought and communicate with others, outside the body, many men of the past accomplished:

In plain words, that extraordinary technique helps you command, control, and dominate people solely with your mind!

Strangely enough, you may have already done so without ever realizing it through your own unconscious extra-sensory powers. Now, for the very first time, you can perform at command, when desired!

I call the technique SUCCESS—the science of mind-melody persuasion. Properly used, it permits your thoughts to influence the person or many!

TRY IT WITHOUT RISK. PAY ONLY IF IT WORKS FOR YOU!

Before you actually buy my SUCCESS manual for ten dollars, I want you to try it out as my guest for 21 days. During this free trial, you won't be on the hook for one cent. Instead I promise not to cash your check or money order for at least 21 days after I've sent it to you.

Try this awesome technique at home, at work—anywhere! Convince yourself beyond the shadow of a doubt that SUCCESS really works. That you can conquer anyone!

If you are not positively pleased for any reason, just return the manual to me. I'll send back your check or money order—unopened.

Said skeptical? OK, post-date your check for 21 days from today. That way I can't possibly deposit it even if I wanted to. You're protected 100%.

Whatever happens, I want you to keep the FREE Bonus Monograph Gift. It's yours merely for making this trial—and making yourself the master over others.

Missiles on Mars are aimed at us!

By BEATRICE DEXTER

Soviet scientists have stunned their colleagues with a shocking discovery — Mars is bristling with missiles and they're aimed at our planet.

The Russians have convened a top-secret gathering of scientists from around the world to discuss the alarming finding which they stumbled across as they were readying a Mars probe planned for later this year.

"The Soviet astronomers say they have detected clear evidence of recent construction activity on the Martian moons and what appear to be missile sites on the surface of the red planet aimed at the earth," a source said.

"They believe the Martians have been planning an attack by aliens and that their target is Earth."

In September of this year Mars will be closer to earth than at any time since 1971," said one scientist at the conference, an astrophysicist from Switzerland who asked to remain anonymous. "The theory is that space aliens are waiting until that time to launch an attack on humans."

In a series of hush-hush meetings, experts from 12 countries have convened here so to evaluate the startling Russian finding and come up with a defense strategy for Earth. Meanwhile, word of their emergency session has leaked to the public in Russia causing widespread concern.

The official news agency Tass has ignored the rumors and described the meetings as a "working symposium on liquid and solid rocket fuels."

But experts contacted by the Swiss journal Stargazer have cautiously confirmed the rumors.

"We have seen computer-enhanced photographs of the Mars base and there is little doubt they contain sensitive," said a Soviet scientist interviewed by the magazine. "We know that the Yanks were up there when the United States sent Viking I up there in 1976."

The Swiss magazine cites buried a number of UFO-watching organizations worldwide and reactions to the Soviet Mars missile discovery was considered. UFO experts said that sightings of alien spacecraft had increased in the past several years and that this dramatic move on alien activity might well be related to an invasion plan.

"On many occasions we've seen streaks of light crossing the sky at high speed," said Eugenio UFO expert Jose Machado.

We have they were met and escorted by spacecraft because they were very small and broke up completely at the end of their trajectory.

On the basis of the new Russian information, it would be possible to theorize that these streaks are caused by tiny shots of particles ejected by aliens within the Earth's atmosphere.

"They may well indicate that something important is about to occur."

Jimmy Swaggart's story in his own words

How a man becomes a porn addict!

WAS the pamphlet at right, written in 1985, the evangelist's confession to disgust?

Old happier days: before scandal rocked the family, Jimmy poses with his wife Frances and son, Donnie, in 1968.

By RAFI KHAMISA

By his own admission, the Rev. Jimmy Swaggart was in the final stage of pitiful depravity when his secret, sicko life as a pornography addict was uncovered.

According to Swaggart, there are four stages a man goes through as his mind deteriorates and he becomes enslaved by his lust for sexual perversions.

And "acting out" his disgusting fantasies with a "strange woman" — or prostitute in Swaggart's case — is the final phase of this descent into sin.

"Pornography is as addictive as alcohol, drugs or gambling — and this is a proven fact!" Swaggart says in his pamphlet, PORNOGRAPHY: America's Dark Secret.

"After viewing films or reading such material and gradually becoming more and more involved, the man suddenly finds himself desirous of acting out the role."

Even worse, Swaggart says a man whose mind has been ravaged by this ill could sometimes rape or even molest children if he can't find another way to "act out" his sexual fantasies.

Swaggart, a fabulously successful evangelist whose TV ministry collected some $150 million a year from followers, was dished up ripeness for sinful addiction to pornography after another minister with whom he is said got the goods on him.

Rival evangelist Marvin Gorman, who was defrocked by Swaggart for sexual misconduct, snapped a picture of Swaggart with a prostitute at a New Orleans motel. Gorman brought the evidence to Swaggart's Assembly of God bosses. That then prompted the 51-year-old fire-and-brimstone-preaching Swaggart to confess his sin.

Swaggart admitted he was the woman with Swaggart in the picture and that the preacher had visited her regularly.

Amazingly, Swaggart, wed for 39 years to wife Frances and who has a son and grandchildren, was apparently so gloating — without admitting — his own addiction to pornography in the pamphlet he wrote and published just three years ago.

"Once the individual indulges in pornography, bondage is sure to follow," he wrote. "He becomes addicted until it soon becomes something he can't pick up or put down at will.

"At this point he begins to act out the fantasies in his mind. He will look at a woman dressed in short shorts or other scanty clothing.

● ESCALATION: A man gets tired of the "old" pornography so a new and needs new material. "He need a steady diet of 'bigger and better thrills' by deeper and deeper exploration into greater and greater perversion," Swaggart said.

● DESENSITIZATION: Over a time is hooked on perversion he becomes numb to things that would have sickened and horrified him before.

Crudest like rape and child molestation begin to thrill instead of disgust them.

● ACTING OUT: This is the final stage of depravity, according to Swaggart. "The pornography addict will begin to act out his fantasies. He will look at a woman dressed in short shorts or other scanty clothing.

"At this point he might try to get his wife or girlfriend to act out the female role in such situations — whatever they may be.

"If he doesn't have a wife or girlfriend, rape or force is resorted to with strange women — or even children," he says.

"The compulsion does inevitably develop, however, to act out the role."

And that sick, shameful compulsion finally drove self-confessed porno slave Swaggart to visit prostitutes in motel rooms where he "acted out" his own pitiful perversions.

I took her on trips — she took me to the cleaners

Dear Dotti, I am with a woman 40 years old and I am 63. I love this woman very much, but she has trouble because she says she gets depressed.

I took her on a 10-day holiday vacation and spent $300 on each of us. When we got home she got depressed. So she said she had to have some time and space alone. But she still went up to town and the store. So I told her I'd do that for her, but she said she'd call me if she got lonely.

She did call after a week and I took her on a trip to see 13 states. Afterward, she needed some dental work done. She had no money so I paid $800 on her bills. Then we went down to her mother's house in Mississippi and paid part rent as after taking the van off, and cleaned up the place and the best she helped the best she could.

When we came home, she said I could move some clothes over and stay with her. She called about everything. I put her on $600 diamond ring and gave her a $200 birthstone ring.

Then she said she had hurt her back so she sleeps in one bed and me the other. I even said get a new mattress for $400, but never got it so I suggest that love life is very poor although when we first met it was good.

I don't seem to understand this woman. Do you think she has someone on the string? — Confused, Texas

Dear Confused, It's not the gifts she's after. Deep down she cares very much for you, but she's afraid you don't love her. Tell her you do and that you'll stop buying her things. Then see what happens.

I can't seem to find real love

Dear Dotti, I am a married woman for the second time around. I'm 31 years old and have four children at home with me. I love my kids and motherhood. I love my husband, but there's something missing in our life.

My problem is that I've never really really been loved by any man the way I have always wanted or dreamed about.

I was a good wife and loved to be with him whenever I could. He always complained that I was never around except at work.

Is it wrong for me to want real love in life? Being a wife gives me a sheltered environment, so I remember my birthday or just want to be told that I'm special. Instead of that, he is out with other women and other activities. I'm tired of being a wife and mother and not getting anything back. I never forget either one of my own children.

Do you think I should keep looking for the kind of love I deserve? — Unloved Georgia

Dear Unloved, Any guy answering about the kind of love that comes in life's puzzle, sensitive and also intelligent who is romantic and likes children, write to me and I'll send your letter to him. Maybe he can help you find real love.

Can I trust my married boyfriend?

Dear Dotti, I am in love with a married man and I want to be with him all the time. He says he loves me too, and he can leave anytime he wants, but he always has some excuse why he can't get together.

Can I really trust him? — Thinking On, Texas

Dear Thinking On, Trust a cheater, never!

My jealous bone is going to kill me

Dear Dotti, My boyfriend doesn't like that I had another boyfriend and then we got back together. I spend most of my time thinking he is going to leave me. I'm afraid I'll lose him.

What do you think, Dotti? — Worried Sick, Ill.

Dear Worried Sick, Jealousy is a terrible thing. Don't let it destroy your relationship. Relax and enjoy your boyfriend.

If I'm dreaming, it's a nightmare

Dear Dotti, I'm 29 and have been married to my high school sweetheart for 12 years. I am trying to start a family, but my husband is not ready.

I pretend to myself I could be content with it, but a little bit deep down I'm unhappy and resent it. I'm tired of being married and I don't love him.

Now, when I see my friends with their children, I feel like I'm missing out on life. I'm afraid I'll never have children. What do you think I should do? — Unhappy Wife

Dear Unhappy, Talk to your husband. Tell him how you feel. Maybe he can help you find the answer.

Confidential

Dear Dotti, I'm in the Marine Corps in Japan. Since I'm stationed here, I've been writing to a girl in Texas. We've been corresponding for about a year. I've never met her, but I'm in love with her. I'm going to ask her to marry me. What do you think? — Confused, Japan

Dear Confused, Let's see what happens. Maybe you should wait until you get back to the States to propose.

Dear Dotti, I'm in love with a girl who lives in Wisconsin. I met her in Florida. She's very pretty and I'm in love with her. I'm going to ask her to marry me. What do you think? — Confused, Florida

MAKE AS MUCH MONEY AS YOU WANT TO

...I DO!

If I want to I can make $250 a day or just an extra $100 a week. As a Von Schrader Associate, I've been writing my own ticket for the [redacted] 10 years!

Bob Moser's own Von Schrader Success Story.

You know, when I first started with Von Schrader 10 years ago, I was just looking for something to do with my extra time. You see, I loved my job as a printer, but my company had decided to go to a 10-hour-a-day, 4-day work week.

A friend told my wife and me about how Von Schrader could help you get started in the carpet cleaning business, full or part time. So, one nice afternoon my wife and I drove up to Von Schrader headquarters in Racine, Wisconsin.

We were so impressed with everything we saw and the people were so nice to us, we headed for home with a Von Schrader carpet cleaning machine. I was amazed. Suddenly, I owned my own business . . . no big investment, no franchise fee, no license to get, no training, no waiting and every penny we made was ours to keep!

It make a long story short, our first job was for a neighbor and that neighbor told a friend and before we knew it we had all the business we could handle. (You can take it from me that 81% of the business comes your way because of referrals from satisfied customers.)

As I look back over my 10 years with Von Schrader, I'm more than amazed. There were times when my part time business literally put food on our table. And Von Schrader is going to through braces and college for the kids and this unpredictable economy. When my hourly wage something my regular job won't pay for — my Von Schrader business will. I'm not kidding when I say I write my own ticket with Von Schrader. I do!

You can do everything Bob Moser does . . . and more!

Everything you'll want to know about owning your own Von Schrader business is contained in a valuable, FREE booklet. In down-to-earth terms it tells you:

- How a low, one time investment (less than 10% of what you'd have to pay some competitors) immediately sets you up in your own business.
- How every penny you earn is yours to keep because there aren't any royalties or franchise fees to pay.
- How you can add 3 businesses in one, if you care to (upholstery and wall cleaning as well as carpet cleaning).
- How you can work full or part time using your home as a base.
- How everything you'll need on every job fits right in your car.
- How you can start immediately because you don't need any special training or mechanical experience.
- How Von Schrader backs you all the way with everything you'll ever need from showing you how to run the "business side" of your business to furnishing you with business getting Advertising materials.

Do-gooders are pests!

A rare, 600-pound monk seal likes to nap in the sun along a sunny Hawaiian beach — but do-gooders won't leave the dozy critter alone.

The once-bustling seal's dreams are often interrupted by well-meaning people who think it is beached or dying.

The poor seal was almost loved to death by one worried tourist and he was dressed with water by a resentful resident. Removing the seal is not only a nuisance for the animal, but a violation of federal law, said wise aquatic biologist Don Maxwell.

Sneaky teacher proves that teens are stupid!

Science teacher Dave Bourland wanted to teach his students to be skeptics, so he told them the wildest lie he could think of — and they swallowed it, hook, line and sinker.

The Toledo, Ohio, high teen, talks would have to school teacher told kids spend their watches and calendars to the state capital to be converted. No one blinked an eye.

Then he said that clocks would have to be changed to register hours that were 100 minutes long.

When Bourland added that there would be 10 hours of daylight after we converted to metric and only 10 months in the year, he still didn't get any questions.

Amazed at the gullibility of his students, Bourland went on with his tall tale.

He told the kids that summer vacations would be reduced to 30 days under the metric system.

"Any those of you born in July and August will have your birthdays canceled," he said.

"But one student sat down with a pencil and tried to figure it out," the teacher reported later.

"No one came up with the fact that it would not have worked. They said later that some questions had crossed their minds, but they didn't ask.

"Students do not think. That is the biggest thing that we educators are fighting against." — SUSAN JOHNSON

Court sets ban on woman's smoking — in her own home

By JACK ALEXANDER

Chain-smoking Elizabeth Roelch has been told by a judge where and when she can smoke — in her own home.

The puffing housewife said in a March article in The NEW that she smoked only to annoy her husband.

In the midst of her divorce battle with her persecution-happy husband, a New York state supreme court judge has ordered her not to smoke in front of her husband or their three kids.

She can smoke only in a small TV room off a first-floor kitchen in their sprawling six-bedroom home in Kings Point, N.Y.

And Judge Ralph Diamond said she can't even light up a weed in that room if she is with any of her children, Andrew, 8, Abraham, 7, and David, 6.

Her non-smoking husband has claimed her cigarette habit is harming the health of the children. He went to court to get her to stop smoking around them.

"I'm a compulsive smoker and I don't want to give it up," said Mrs. Roelch. "I do it just to annoy him. I'll quit when I get him out of the house.

"He's an Arabolish. I married

A JUDGE put a limit on where chain-smoking wife Elizabeth Roelch can light up in her own home.

Boy brings live grenade to school's 'show & tell'

A fourth-grader panicked a school when he came in a "show and tell" class with a live hand grenade.

Cops in Miami, Okla., said the grenade could have detonated and blown up the school on contact.

"The grenade didn't even have a pin in it," said police detective Jim Bryant. "The hinge on the handle just froze. It could have gone off any time."

The little boy who brought the explosive to class said her dad found it on a junk pile six months ago.

Police took the grenade to a safe place and detonated it.

Young mom and kids drink poisoned juice — and live!

A mother of two young children was hovering at death's door after downing a fruit juice cocktail laced with deadly windshield washer fluid!

The mother, 35-year-old Benita Wege, was found lying unconscious in a Coral Springs, Fla., motel, where she had taken the children from her home in Fort Lauderdale.

The children, Brent, 7, and Brigit, 6, went to the motel manager when they were unable to awaken her. She was rushed to a hospital where she was listed in serious but stable condition.

Although the children had also consumed some of the lethal cocktail, they apparently hadn't had as much as their mother did.

Windshield washer fluid is made with wood alcohol which, when taken internally, can cause blindness or death.

Police were trying to determine how or why the fluid got into the fruit juice.

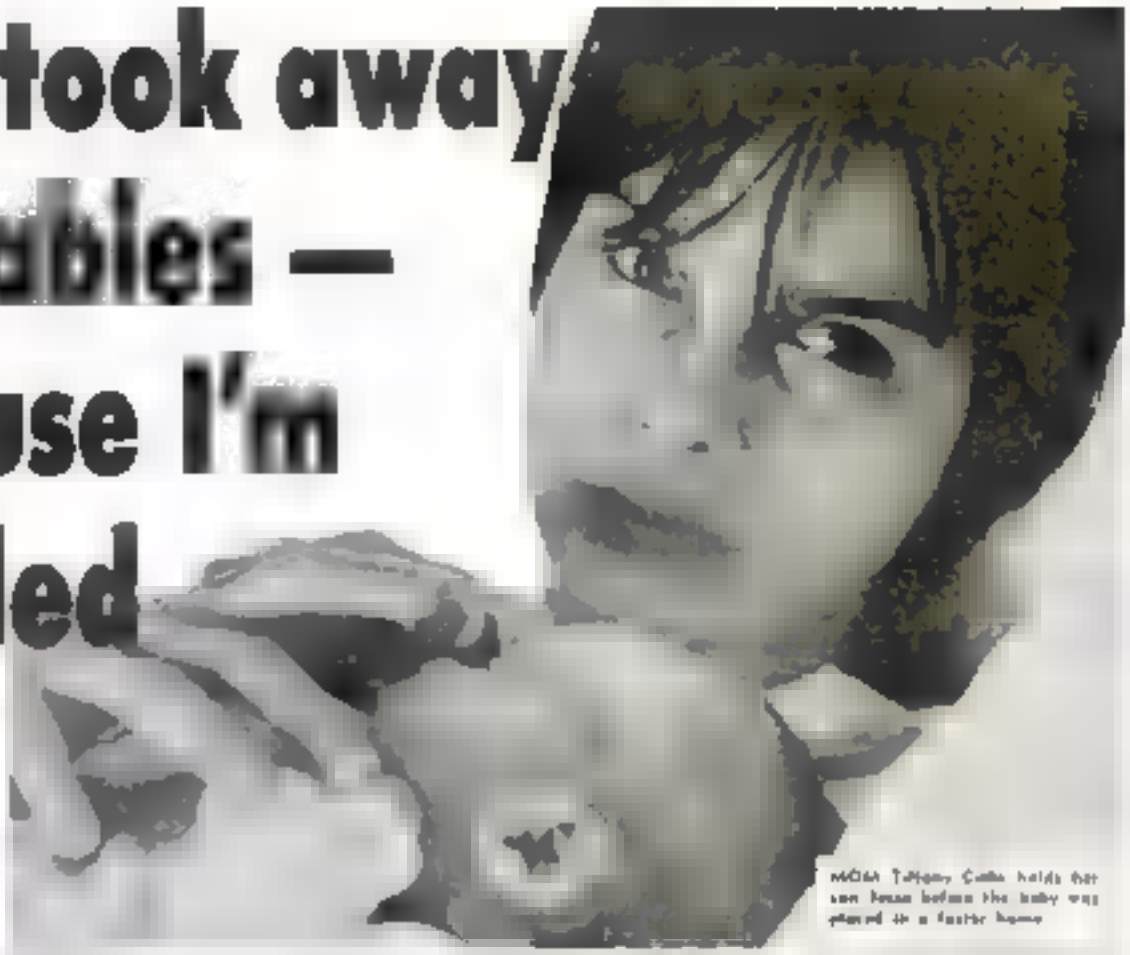
They took away my babies — because I'm crippled



MOM Tiffany Cella holds her son Jesse before the baby was placed in a foster home

Cerebral palsy mom battles heartless social workers who won't let her raise her sons

By SUSAN JIMISON

Cerebral palsy victim Tiffany Cella gave birth to two beautiful babies, but social workers have taken them away from her — because she is handicapped!

Tiffany, who is divorcing her husband this month, lost her first baby immediately after he was born last year. The child was placed in a foster home in preparation for adoption, putting a terrible strain on her marriage to her crippled husband, Tony Rice.

Seven after David's birth, Tiffany again became pregnant and her marriage broke up. She gave birth to Jesse on February 19 and once again, social workers took her baby.

"It's so unfair," Tiffany said tearfully. "It isn't right. I love the children. The children are my life and I feel like they're taking a part of my life away."

Jesse has been placed with the same foster family that is caring for David but officials won't tell Tiffany where they are.

Once a week the young mom is permitted to see her children, for just one hour in a supply welfare office.

Now courageous Tiffany has decided not to let bureaucrats deprive her of her kids and has filed suit demanding the return of her children. A judge has ordered experts to observe Tiffany with her children to determine whether she is capable of caring for them.

Tiffany has found people willing to help her at home with the children for free but county officials won't consider them because Tiffany can't afford to pay them.

"The county is making things difficult over the payment issue and it just doesn't make any sense," she said. "If what the courts find them with my children is not against the law, then it's time for lawmakers to look at the law and re-evaluate it. It's time to change the law.

"I'm not going to harm my children. I just want them to come home again.

"They need a mother's love and — no matter what my handicap is — I am the only person on earth who can give them that."

Eagles terrorize hang glider pilots

By KAFT KLIMMER

During hang glider pilots risking their lives in a world competition are being terrorized by a flock of monstrous eagles intent on knocking the men out of the skies.

Already, British flying ace Tony Hughes was forced to make an emergency landing with his crippled craft after a gigantic eagle suddenly swooped down from out of the clouds during one of the and ace spectator at the World Hang Gliding Championships being held at Mount Buffalo in Australia. "At first I noticed a bird circling high over the hang glider. Suddenly, without warning, the monster dropped straight down upon the pilot.

"The bird seemed to pass right through one of the wings. I could see the holes in the glider."

Hughes was lucky to carry his wounded craft back to earth with no harm to himself.

damaged by the birds that they would plummet uncontrollably to the ground in a fatal fall.

"It's a very busy business flying around up there knowing there's a very determined creature with razor-sharp claws doing its best to bring you down," noted British team captain John Dunker.

Dunker, a veteran pilot, said he's been pestered by eagles while gliding in France, but never has he seen such vicious attacks.

Cops say groom tossed bride into the [redacted] from love boat

Honeymoon horror!

By JACK ALEXANDER

A romantic honeymoon cruise [redacted] the tragic death of a young bride who cops said was strangled and tossed overboard by her husband!

Scott Roston, 38, made national headlines as the prime suspect in the case and is being held by the FBI for investigation of murder in the death of his wife, Karen, 28.

This newlywed's story began when the cruise ship Rhodesian left Los Angeles [illegible] harbor on their wedding day for a week's cruise to Mexico.

A week later Roston reported his new wife had been blown overboard by high winds as the couple ran along the ship's jogging track at 2 a.m. The ship's captain said the winds weren't that strong.

The Coast Guard later found her body out of the ocean 44 miles southwest of San Diego. An autopsy revealed the cause of death was strangulation associated with drowning.

"She was strangled and thrown overboard, where she drowned," said deputy coroner Robert Grubb.

There were signs the young bride had been fighting prior to an FBI affidavit. There was a bruise on her forehead, marks on her neck and her eyes were blackened, said Grubb.

Roston later changed his story and told a bizarre tale about being attacked on the ship by Israeli terrorists who beat up his wife and threw her overboard. He said the attack was retaliation for a book he wrote a few years ago entitled "Nightmare in Israel."

In a written statement released by his lawyer, Roston said: "I have been framed for the murder of my beloved wife, by foreign agents. The brutal act was committed because I published an expose last year of the bloodthirsty empire of that government (Israel)."

Roston is being held without bail at the Terminal Island federal prison in Los Angeles while authorities decide whether he'll be released in Bahamian officials because the cruise ship was registered there.

Breast surgery breakthrough!

An amazing new medical breakthrough allows women to have breast cancer surgery — and be on their way home within minutes.

The outpatient surgery for minor tumors replaces painful and risky mastectomies for hundreds of thousands of women who are now hospitalized for the operation. Using a portable laser device to pinpoint small tumors, doctors are able to complete the surgery in 15 minutes, according to Women's World magazine.

A local anesthesia is used for the operation.

ASTRONUTS!

By HENRY WEBER

The tiny Gambian Air Force welded four would-be astronauts in the cab of a pickup truck to simulate life in a space capsule and left them there for 16 days!

African news agencies say the men were hospitalized for heat stroke after the bizarre experiment, called "astronaut training" by air force generals who do not even have enough money to buy their first plane.

"We have been sent abroad to learn what our air force has been doing," Alhaji M'Boge of the justice department told reporters in Banjul, capital of Gambia.

"Needless to say there will be a full investigation. The air force is less than a year old and purely ceremonial. It certainly isn't in the business of launching young men in the risks of space travel."

"The full scope of the Gambian space program is not yet known.

But news reports say air force brass not only welded recruited volunteers in a '57 Chevy pickup, they had dogs and monkeys hurled from a giant catapult to simulate weightlessness and the stresses of rapid acceleration.

At least 16 of them were subsequently hospitalized with [illegible] sickness, including [illegible] broken bones.

Gen. Double Cossy is currently the top-ranking officer in a force of eight generals, 30 colonels and 50 majors.

He told reporters that he stands by the Gambian space [illegible] and will continue to [illegible] the [illegible] program.

"The future will literally pass Gambia by if we can't develop deep space capability," said Gen. Cossy. "It is unfortunate if we are to reap the benefits of interplanetary exploration and trade."

Major Kalifa Camara was fiercely opposed to the Gambian space program from the outset and resigned from the air force rather precipitously two months ago.

Pet-rified pooch

By ALEX SCOTT

Dog lover Lucette Germaine, at right, couldn't bear to part with her precious pet when it died, so she had the animal stuffed — and takes it everywhere.

The pesky newsboy grips the stuffed dog up in a bicycle basket during evening visits around the neighborhood and keeping by their beige a day.

"People may think I'm a bit strange, but I can't bear to say goodbye to my beloved Popeye," said Lucette, 30, of Geneva, Switzerland.

The 3-year-old Spitz had to be destroyed a year ago after being struck by a car while Lucette was vacationing in Paris, France, with Popeye.

"It broke my heart but poor little Popeye was suffering so much I couldn't stand it," said Lucette. "She said may be in heaven but she is still with me."

Instead of burying Popeye, the heartbroken young woman took it to an expert taxidermist.

"She looks so lifelike I expect her to bark or lick my hand any minute," said Lucette. "She also used to say hello as she'll do the first thing I see when I awaken."

Ghetto blasters outlawed

American officials are too wimpy to do anything about it. But the British have declared war on "noise vandals" — punks who parade around town with their ghetto-blasters turned up to ear-splitting levels!

Transportation big shots forced the first volley by forbidding portable stereos on railways, buses and trains. Now private citizens are urging the government to ban them everywhere the public gathers.

"The government must realize this is a total ban — in the streets, swimming areas and the house," said John Connell, chairman of the Noise Abatement Society, in London.

"The people who have them take a delight in upsetting others by turning them up as loud as they can."

One last fling!

A 28-year-old executive held cops at bay for five hours as he could get drunk and stoned one last time before entering a drug rehabilitation program, authorities in Saginaw, Mich., report.

They will steal the shirt right off your back!

Police in St. Petersburg, Fla., are baffled by a new breed of thief that leaves no problem about the stolen clothes.

At least a dozen people have been forced to hand over everything from hot-lined jackets and hoods shirts to a sweatshirt cap in the bizarre crimes spree. Police say most of the thieves are teenagers who ride motors or gangsters and flee on bicycles.

Microwave will save your bacon

If you love bacon, but you're concerned about the cancer-causing chemicals that come from frying it to a golden crisp, relax — you can microwave your favorite food and avoid the problem altogether.

While fried bacon contains high levels of a carcinogen called N-nitrosamines, microwaved bacon doesn't have any at all, according to the National Center for Toxicological Research in Jefferson, Ark.

The government-sponsored researchers say they still recommend using bacon fat in cooking because much fat produced by microwaving bacon is a danger if it is reused.

Woman faces birds and bees sex charges!

A woman has been charged with attempting a 13-year-old boy after the child's father alleged with her to teach the youth the joys of heterosexual sex, cops say.

Cops arrested Jasha Kash, 48, who accused the boy agreed to have sex with her in her Chesterton, Ind., home. Court records show the boy's father contacted Miss Kash, who was his girlfriend, and asked her to have sex with the youth. The boy had been sexually molested by a Bible church counselor and the father was worried he might become gay, records show.

However he was promptly abused by that guy, he (the boy's father) figures that if Jason had sex with the boy that would make him forget everything that happened to him." The boy's mother said.

Cops say teen killed her mom

A 13-year-old girl was charged with murder in the strangling death of her pregnant mom.

Police in Wilmington, Del., said seventh-grader Latoya Thomas murdered her mom, Marlee Thomas, 33, in the apartment they shared.

SUPER GRANDPA

He's 100 years old and pumps iron every day!

By RAPE KLINGER

Incredible Jack Mayhurst is 100 years old, but instead of spending his day in a rocker — the peppy oldster keeps fit as a fiddle doing pushups and pumping iron.

The amazing great-grandfather from Warrington, England, who was born Feb 8, 1884, starts off each day with a workout that would leave most 80-year-olds breathless.

Jack starts off with 40 pushups and then with muscles warmed up and humming, he starts a grueling workout with the weights. Then he tops it all off with a brisk 3-mile walk.

"Keep fit and active — that is the secret to living a long and happy life," said Jack who still remembers seeing Queen Victoria and the famed Golden Hall when he toured England with his wild west show at the turn of the century.

"I was an army physical training instructor at the outbreak of the First (world) war — and the habit of keeping fit has never left me.

"I don't feel any older than I did at 70."

While most 80-year-olds are rocking their last years away at nursing homes where there's a staff to care for them, feisty Jack lives alone and does his own cooking.

And Jack's no strict-no-the-usual health freak. He boasts that he enjoys a shot of whiskey daily.

Cops say crime paid for killer

Nutsert Maury allegedly helped cops find the bodies of three slain women — and then police charged him with murdering the women himself.

The 28-year-old Redding, Calif., man made at least 30 calls to a Jehovah Witness hot line in 1985 and 1987, a witness testified at his court hearing. The witness said she was "98 percent certain" it was Maury who gave her directions to the bodies and asked about rewards.

Maury later collected a fee for his help, police said.

Circus boss buys two-headed baby!

The owner of a circus vows to keep the two-headed baby he bought from an unwed mother in spite of a threatened boycott by human rights groups!

Erling Richelsen told reporters in Copenhagen that the eight-month-old child is happy in his new home and will remain with the Danish circus unless the government intervenes.

That's not likely because Richelsen has already filed to adopt the boy.

Barring complications, he will be the tragic child's legal father by fall.

"This is the ultimate outrage," said Bjeld Bertram, founder of a children's advocacy group in Copenhagen. "Richelsen cares nothing about this child.

"He just sold hard cash for the right to exploit him. The child is an investment. And you can be sure that Richelsen is going to milk the boy as much as he can as long as the public pays big money to see the 'monster.'"

Richelsen refuses to name the two-headed baby's mother or how much he paid her.

But he says she is in her early 20s, has a drug problem and isn't married.

He claims to have paid the equivalent of $200 for the child although Germaine Berthelsen has since said she received $2,000 for the baby.

Dr. Jens Bramsen examined the boy and declared that he is healthy and developing normally in spite of his deformity. "The Greek myth-ology tells about Siamese twins who were separated successfully and have different personalities," said the physician.

"But there is no reason why the child can't lead a relatively normal life if he is given the love, support and education he needs to develop his own individual personality."

Richelsen is at the center of a storm of controversy over his plans to exploit the baby commercially.

Bramsen said the boy will probably be put up for adoption if Richelsen is not allowed to adopt him as planned. "I would not like a decision to be made that is helping people to have the child."

Richelsen plans to exhibit the baby at carnivals throughout Europe and the United States.

He claims he has already received offers from several U.S. showmen.

"I'm not doing anything illegal," he said. "After all, I'm not the first one to exploit a freak baby. Look at Barnum and Bailey. They made millions off Siamese twins Chang and Eng. Why shouldn't I?"

Richelsen said he has no plans to have the baby undergo surgery to correct the deformity.

"Why should I? The doctors say the baby is healthy. Besides, I'm not a doctor. I'm a businessman. I'm in the business of showing people things they've never seen before. And I really do love the little guy," he said. "After awhile you don't even notice that he has two heads."

While Richelsen insists he will never sell the boy, he admitted that the world of the circus might not be best for Pixie, the little two-headed lad.

"That child should live in the environment of nature," he said.

"I can't imagine the psychological damage he might suffer if he spends his life as the center looking in.

"He's got to learn

Experts tell how to beat the blues

You can cure yourself of the blues, experts say, by remembering a few simple methods of consoling yourself when you're down and out.

According to top psychologists, there are a number of healthy ways to make yourself feel better when you are in pain, including talking to yourself and reliving with imaginary reshaping.

"The ability to give solace to oneself is the basis of such major positive feelings as joy, awe, forgiveness and generosity," said Dr. Paul Bierton, a Meriden, Conn., psychoanalyst who has studied ways people comfort themselves.

Here are some of the most helpful methods of making yourself feel better:

● Talk to yourself. Discuss the problem rationally — out loud if you wish — trying to focus on more than one side of your situation.

● Remind yourself that all pain is healed by time.

● Ask yourself what you might advise a friend if he were in the same situation — then take your own advice.

● Write things down. List your feelings about your situation and in another column write down a rational response to each thought.

Try to see where you are distorting things by imagining the worst.

Smart brains use less fuel

Brains of smart folks use less energy than the brains of people with less intelligence, said experts.

Brain scans revealed that people who score highest on intelligence tests have brains that consume the least amount of energy-giving blood sugar.

The research on brain energy was presented to the American Association for the Advancement of Science in Boston, Mass., by Dr. Richard Haier.

Good Samaritan is a bad shot

Police officer Lionel Crespo was waiting a gun battle with a thug on a New York City street when he was shot in the back — by a Good Samaritan who'd rushed in to help him.

Crespo suffered a broken head, his buttocks and one leg when the man who went to aid him accidentally blasted him with a shotgun.

The weird incident began after the young cop spotted what he thought was a purse-snatching in progress.

When Crespo identified himself as a policeman, the man with a gun opened fire on him.

As the patrolman returned fire, a nearby resident heard the commotion, grabbed his [illegible] and joined the fleeing bad guys, he accidentally leveled Crespo instead.

The policeman was treated and released at a nearby hospital.

Tiny pink froggies came from the sky

It took a long time, but experts finally came up with an explanation for the invasion of a small town by a passel of pink frogs. The creatures rained from the sky, scientists say.

The tiny creatures appeared suddenly by the hundreds in the English town of Cirencester following a rainstorm. After months of research, the Gloucestershire Trust for Nature Conservation concluded they'd hitchhiked all the way from the Sahara Desert. The scientists believe fresh winds sucked the frogs out of the desert sand, where they burrow to escape the heat, then carried them thousands of miles.

Spiked food turns dopey diners into junk food junkies

Restaurant inspectors were stunned when they found that 15 eateries in Neijiang, China, were turning their customers into real junk food junkies by spiking their munchies with opium poppy pods.

The wily restaurant bosses figured customers would get hooked on the dopey dishes and come running back for more.

Cooks in the eateries laced the food by dumping 88 lb (200 grams) of poppy seeds into each portion.

Asparagus thicker than a man's thumb!

All-Male Hybrid Asparagus Never Goes to Seed...Puts All Its Energy Into Growing Colossal, Succulent Spears.

Farmers in Artesia communities and parts of Holland had a little trick for growing super large spears of asparagus that fetched top prices. They would go down their rows and remove all the female plants — those that produce red berries leaving only the males to produce stalks. Since the males never "go to seed" they put all their energy into growing fat, succulent spears.

Plant scientists took this idea a step further and produced a variety of asparagus that would grow only males, thus making it a HYBRID so the productivity of the males would be maximized. They call our variety "Ben Franklin" in honor of an energetic American patriot.

Find Female Plants Hard To Pluck Among Regular Asparagus

We send you plants — not seeds or roots. These plants are already green and leafy with healthy root systems, ready to plant into garden soil. The resulting yields of asparagus are 3 to 4 times more than regular asparagus. A higher percentage of thick spears is achieved, many as thick or thicker than a man's thumb. Weeds have little chance to compete with these vigorous growers. They are hardy in cold weather, tolerate poor soil types or alkalines and thrive with no special care.

Now Public Offering of Three Specialized Growers

We have secured plants of the available supplies of "Ben Franklin" and Male asparagus (above left) grows top quality, straight spears, thick and fat-tipped. Female (above right) has thin, wandering stems. New Ben Franklin is a Hybrid with all male stems, and it leaves the field, therefore, more top quality spears.

Harvest from first of Grade A spears like these, each plant of Ben Franklin yields up to 4 times more spears than old varieties.

that at the first public offering of plants. Until now only a few professional growers and universities (some there have had access to them. By one of the first to grow these succulent plants. Their vigorous young plants grow so much faster than regular asparagus roots — you can grow as few as six plants or as — or plant a whole patch of 100 plants. Ben Franklins that they can yield up to four times what the old varieties did. We have now cropping 100 plants before to feed a family of four. One will need 25 "Ben Franklins." Supplies are limited, so be sure to send your order today.

Medics find skeleton in apartment!

Paramedics responding to a report of an injured and mentally disturbed woman made a chilling discovery when they stormed her apartment — they found the skeletal remains of a man believed to be her nephew!

The fully clothed skeleton was found in the Brooklyn, N.Y., apartment of 67-year-old Mary Vernola, who was taken bleeding and injured to a hospital.

The skeletal remains are believed to be those of Robert Dabney. Neighbors said Vernola told them her nephew had moved to New Jersey to live with a friend.

Dabney, who would have been 39 years old, lived with Vernola, but hadn't been seen in about two years.

Mom's heavy metal heartbreak

By JACK ALEXANDER

A copycat kid nearly killed himself trying to imitate a music video of his favorite heavy metal rock band — by setting himself on fire.

Sixth-grader Bryan Tucker suffered serious burns on his legs, chest and abdomen mimicking a scene from a video of the rock group, Motley Crue.

One of the musicians has his leg torched by another band member in the video.

The 12-year-old boy didn't think the fire would burn him because the band member in the video wasn't hurt, said Hollywood, Fla., fire inspector Ron Wolf.

"It affected him in the wrong way," said Wolf. "He thought it was fantasy and nothing would happen."

The youngster doused his body with alcohol, ignited it with a match and went up in flames.

He ran screaming into the bathroom and jumped into a tub still filled with water from an earlier bath.

His 14-year-old sister called paramedics who rushed the youngster from his home to Memorial Hospital where he was reported in fair condition. Fire Chief James Ward said the boy was scared to death and reluctant at first to tell authorities what happened and why.

"If something is on television that's got people doing this, we want to know about it," said Ward.

Motley Crue has consistently been considered one of the most violent groups in video, according to the National Coalition on Television Violence.

Bryan is a heavy metal rock enthusiast and recently began taking electric guitar lessons, said his sister, Dolphin.

He wears an earring in the shape of a cross and was greatly influenced by the Motley Crue video shown.

"The young boy's reaction to the video is something that happens too often," said coalition president Dr. Thomas Radecki.

"It fits a pattern we see over and over again," he said.

"It's one of many hundred and deals of violent behavior that we get reported."

Son sets himself on fire after seeing stunt in rock video

ANGUISHED mom Winnie Taylor looks after her son Bryan as he receives treatment for severe burns in a Miami hospital. Below, the heavy metal rock group Motley Crue. Their raucous rock video inspired impressionable Bryan to try a dangerous stunt, says fire inspector Ron Wolf.

WE'RE DESCENDED FROM BUGS, SAYS SCIENTIST

An ugly-furred, sulfur-eating insect was the common ancestor of all life forms on earth — including man!

That's the claim of Pentagon scientists in California who got their first glimpse of the creature after an exhaustive study of genetic material and its path of mutation.

The experts' startling findings point to the origin of all life about 3.8 billion years ago in sulfurous springs similar to those found in Yellowstone National Park today.

Boy hides under bed while parents and police push the panic button

Frantic family members assisted scores of police in the desperate 12-hour search for Camel Grayson, 10, then found the boy at his best friend's house — hiding under the bed!

It seems the Lake Worth, Fla., boy had been bawled out at school for cursing at a teacher.

He was so afraid of what his mom might do that he'd decided a disappearing act was the best way to avoid her wrath.

Soon the whole neighborhood was in an uproar. Police and neighbors searched the area while Camel's mom, Jackie Grayson, was frantic with worry.

"I thought he was dead," she said. "I thought somebody had taken him, he could be lying out somewhere hurt. He didn't have a coat," said the boy's mother, Jackie Grayson, who finally found her son peeking out from under a bed.

"He came out and said he had heard my voice and felt sorry for me. He realized I was frightened."

Meanwhile, Camel has been suspended

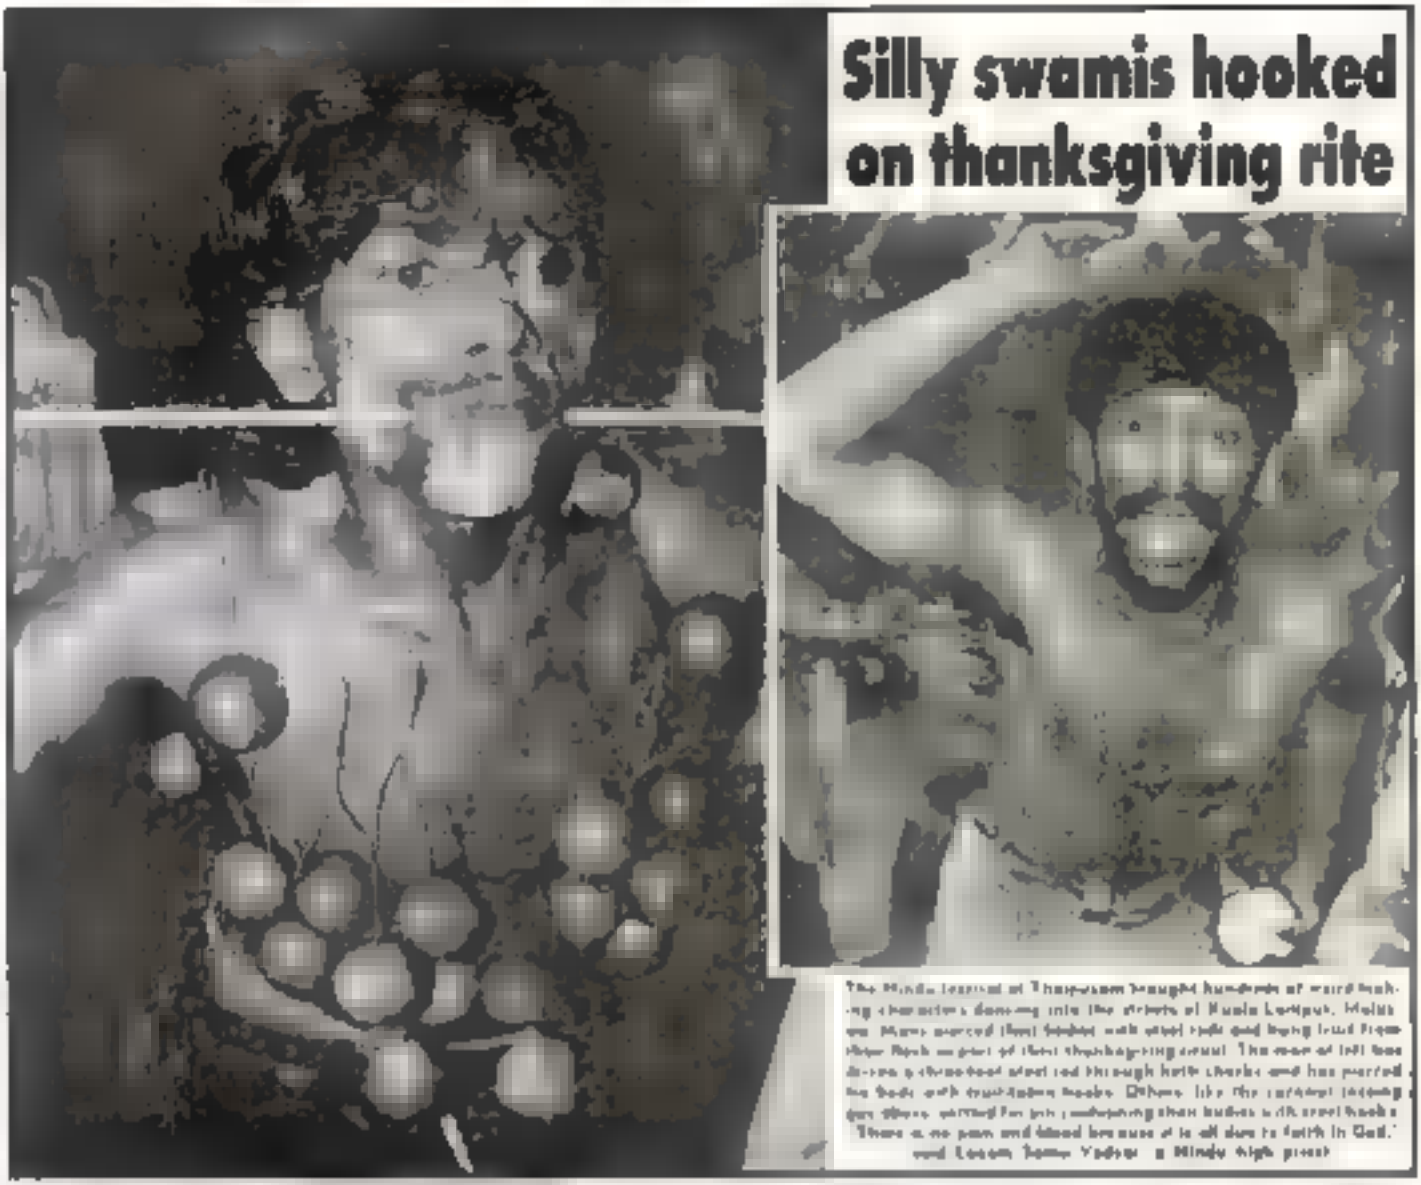
Silly swamis hooked on thanksgiving rite



The Hindu Journal of Thaipusam brought hundreds of weird looking characters dancing into the streets of Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. Many carried steel hooks and steel rods and hung lead fishes from their flesh as part of their thanksgiving ritual. The man at left has driven a three-foot steel rod through both cheeks and has pierced his body with countless hooks. Others like the naked teenager (at right) carried heavy loads suspended from hooks in their flesh. "There is no pain and blood because it is all due to faith in God," said Ustaza Sumathi Yadiyar, a Hindu high priest.

Con's complaint is tissue thin

When Curtis Hudson Jr. of Ogden, Utah, explained to the court that he was not receiving enough writing supplies in prison, he wanted to make sure the judge got the point — so he wrote his petition on toilet paper.

"I plaintiff apologizes for using toilet paper herein, but it is all the paper he has at this time," argued the Utah state prison inmate.

Curtis' Motion to Seek an Injunction in Order to Obtain Adequate Supplies for Access to Courts" was duly processed by the U.S. District Court clerk's office. Curtis says he needs more writing paper than officials allot him to file all the suits and motions he wants to bring against the prison.

Mom shoots son in [redacted] kisser during silly game

Super lucky son Lester Scales suffered a sore throat while he and his mother were kidding around — and she shot him in the mouth.

"We were playing," said Scales' mom, Mattie Tipkins. "No one knew there was a bullet in the gun."

Scales put a 22-caliber pistol in his mouth and she pulled the trigger as seven nieces and nephews looked on at their home in Baton, Idaho.

The bullet wedged in Scales' throat and miraculously didn't injure his spinal cord, said hospital doctor Bob Ho Smith.

Police said Scales told them it was an accident.

"He had been drinking and the two were kidding around. It was all in a joking gone manner," said detective Tony Walker.

Cops say this kid's a baddie!

Cops were waiting for seventh-grader Latera Thomas when she got out of school — and charged her with suffocating her mother.

The 13-year-old girl had called police in Wilmington, Del., on January 16 and reported her mom, Muriel Thomas, 36, passed out. Mrs. Thomas was dead when the ambulance arrived.

"Paramedics became suspicious because of the woman's age. The fact that she was pregnant and had no medical history that would lead anyone to believe she died of natural causes," said police.

All-you-can-eat restaurants ban munching champ

By ROSE GRADY

If you owned an all-you-can-eat restaurant, the last person on earth you'd want to serve would be Mort Hurst — a man with a bottomless pit who's just eaten his way into the Guinness Book of World Records!

In fact, the hapless owners of at least two such restaurants have now banned the amazing speed-eater, vowing to fire any waitress who dares to serve him.

And no wonder! The 38-year-old North Carolina TV host earned a world record when he devoured 13½ pounds of watermelon in 10 minutes!

Another world record came when he gobbled up 7½ pounds of collard greens mixed in a vat of ketchup! Now that's a pound of collard greens that he ate in all — at a mere 30 minutes.

"I've always liked eating," said [illegible] Hurst who developed his insatiable appetite after he reached the scales at a trim 180 pounds.

"And I like to win.

"I don't eat anything more except to set a record or for money.

"But it's dangerous. I've choked two times and I've passed out. It's something that could put my lights out.

"But if I've got to die I can't think of a better way to go than with a full stomach."

But filling his appetite [illegible] to be very cheap. This guy can eat his whole thirteen of a single setting. And into an [illegible] of his favorite vittles [illegible] neighbours watched all wide-eyed amusement he ate a light breakfast of 54 eggs, eight slices of toast, a stack of pancakes and two bottles of ketchup — in just 30 short minutes!

He also ate 150 shrimp and a chocolate pie in a mere 30 seconds.

You'd need a very big all-you-can-eat restaurant. The last man on earth you'd want to see come walking through your door would be Mort Hurst.

He's the man with the bottomless pit!

HOLLIS at buffet counter runs white when bottomless pit Mort Hurst begins to pile upon his many-a plate

Guilty conscience leads to shocking confession

I KILLED A MAN

. . . but nobody believes me

By RAPI KLINGER

Guilt-ridden Gary Hennig admits that he brutally beat a man to death, but he's not being charged with murder — because police say they can't find a body to prove it.

"At this time, we don't have a body to match his story," said Los Angeles Police Det. Al Gonzales.

Cops say they can't find a corpse

Los Angeles investigators especially Det. John Dunkin, have done their best for a year to find a body or a witness to prove murder. This body hunt was sparked by Hennig's letters to police in which he confessed to beating to death a young Latin man in a parking lot behind a Los Angeles bar in 1980.

Hennig, a 43-year-old drifter, can't come to Los Angeles to aid in the investigation.

He's currently serving a life term at Old Colony Prison in Bridgewater, Mass., for another murder he committed said Dunkin.

"His conscience bothers him," said Dunkin of Hennig's confession to the killing he can't prove.

Hennig's murder story began when he was drinking at a bar with a pal. The bartender came over and warned them that two other guys down the bar were talking about robbing them. A while later, Hennig's buddy left for the nearby hotel they were staying in. When Hennig left, he said the two men followed him out into the back parking lot.

Hennig told Dunkin the men cornered him against a car. He kicked the taller one in the groin and the man ran off. The smaller man pulled a knife. Hennig said he disarmed the man, took away the knife and then began beating the man until he was dead. He then took the body and tossed it in a dumpster.

Det. Dunkin said he can't find a record of a body found at that time to match up with Hennig's story.

"He really believes that he [illegible] with a gut. [illegible] and he killed him," said Dunkin.

And Dunkin sincerely believes that Hennig isn't some wild-eyed creepo at who goes no lucks by confessing to crimes he didn't commit.

Dunkin says he has two explanations for the vanishing story. Either the body was carted off by a garbage truck and is now buried under tons and tons of garbage or the man wasn't dead.

Instead, he later came to crawled out of the dumpster and drove off.

Either way Dunkin is working with the case.

"We want to make sure that if there was a murder, we can identify the body and convict it," said the detective.

GUILT-RIDDEN Gary Hennig says he beat a man to death.

Tub-of-lard teen sheds 196 pounds

By JOE BIGGS

Tub-of-lard teenager Michelle Deakin was a thundering 336-pound porker folks called Ellie the Elephant till she swore off Big Macs and bonbons — and shed 196 pounds in ghastly flab in a flash!

Happy girl says, 'I don't look like Ellie the Elephant anymore'

Now once-meaty Michelle is so smashing she's turning her chic new physique into a lucrative career — as a dazzling fashion model.

"I look in the mirror and I simply can't believe it's me. I'm seeing," the eye-popping plump girl told reporters in Liverpool, England.

"I feel like I've been reborn in a beautiful new body. I want everybody who once called me Two-Ton Tessie or Ellie the Elephant to get a look at me today."

Recalls Michelle, 19, says her life as a chocolate-gobbling slob is nothing but a nightmarish memory now.

"If you have not lived through it, you can't imagine how awful it really is," said the superhuman turned supermodel.

"I couldn't face the world the way I was, so I stayed home and ate for consolation. The worst I felt about being fat, the fatter I got.

PRETTY Michelle Deakin holds up her "before" photo.

How to buck the system!

Richard and Katheryne Johnson got so mad that they paid off a whopping $11,000 car loan with $3 bills!

The couple from San Leandro, Calif., alleged that employees of Western Financial Savings Bank started treating them like dirt after they'd entered a Jeep Cherokee through the firm in 1988.

Fed up, they ventured a loan from another bank, got the 11,000 dollar bills on canvas bags and paid off Western Financial. A teller reportedly had to work overtime to count the money but bank manager David Melanis laugh it on credit.

Mrs. Johnson said they thought about paying off the loan in pennies but were afraid the weight "would break the Jeep I was paying for."

RICHARD and Katheryne show their son Jeff one of the bags they stuffed with $11,000 dollar bills to pay off their truck in the background.

A weighty problem for pre-teen girls

Girls begin to think that thin is beautiful at the tender age of 7 — or younger, says an interesting new medical survey.

"I've been seeing 6- and 8-year-old girls who were preoccupied with their weight," said Dr William Feldman, medical professor at the University of Ottawa.

"One young girl broke into tears when her mother asked her to go for a swim," he said. "The girl said she'd look fat in a swimsuit."

Several medical studies put of thirteen-year-olds in girls as many as 30 per 10, said Dr Feldman. America is where a skewed idea of perceptions of person is so obsessed with ultra-thinness. But experts, however, that death from this insane holding a standard malnutrition could never be age of thirteen that is considered, children, have already said Feldman.

Sickening crime

A man accused of killing seven women and keeping their corpses in his apartment complained during a hearing that looking at photos of the victims' bodies made him sick.

Harrison Graham, 38, pushed away one of the police photos during the hearing in Philadelphia and told his lawyer, "I don't want to see that. All that filth it would take a sick person to do that."

THE COMPLETE HANDBOOK OF
United States Government

CASH-IN ON FEDERAL GIVE-AWAY PROGRAMS

One in every 3 Americans collect U.S. Government benefits. This year alone Uncle Sam will hand out over $200 billion under a variety of programs.

If you want to find out what Government benefits you may be missing out on The Complete Handbook of U.S. Government Benefits can be one of the best investments you've ever made.

The book tells you how to collect social security, federal retirement, small business loans, education benefits, job training, unemployment, disabled veterans, Veteran's benefits, income supplements, and much more. The book shows you how to qualify, benefits available, and how to start collecting right away.

If you think you don't qualify for benefits because of your age or financial situation, this book will really open your eyes. Here are just a few facts covered in The Complete Handbook of U.S. Government Benefits:

- How 21 million Americans averaging around age 28 collect monthly social security checks.
- How to make the entire family eligible for food stamps, even your unemployed child.
- How one man in Cleveland, Ohio got monthly social security checks.
- How women 3 million children get monthly social security checks.
- How to qualify for disability payments (only 11 million people collecting but thousands more eligible).
- How to work and still collect social security.
- How to find out how much you have paid into social security.
- How to know when to quit work and start collecting social security.
- How to get a lower mortgage payment.
- How to get a $100,000 loan to start your own business. It's simple and the bank tells you exactly how to do it!
- How to collect a $500,000 loan to buy a farm or ranch, including livestock and equipment.
- How to collect a $25,000 loan for a mobile home, including lot.
- How to collect a $15,000 loan for home improvements.
- How to collect over $500 a month to attend college, trade school or get on-the-job training.
- How to get a government job.
- How to get free medical coverage, including eye glasses and dental care.
- How to collect hundreds of dollars a month to help pay your insurance cost, including utilities.
- How to get up to a $10,000 cash business loan, even if you are poor and unemployed.
- How to obtain thousands of dollars in free Federal services.

With the help of this book many families are now living a more comfortable existence.

Although The Complete Handbook of U.S. Government Benefits could cause thousands of dollars to come to you it is being offered at only $19.95 (plus $1 postage and handling).

ARIES

Mar. 21-Apr. 19

Unexpected obligation may pop up suddenly in the week ahead, but you can easily overcome minor difficulties by concentrating on important objectives.

Paying attention to your Aries sense of intuition now could save you a lot of grief in the future. First impressions may prove to be accurate and important.

Simmering family disputes could reach the boiling point at this time. You would be wise to settle differences before they get out of hand.

TAURUS

Apr. 20-May 20

A creative spark could light the way to some exciting and important changes in your life if you have the courage to follow your instincts now.

This typical Taurus sense of loyalty might be a problem in the week ahead when someone tries to take advantage of your trust. Strive to be objective.

Long-standing travel plans may be derailed in the very near future and you should be prepared to make adjustments as necessary.

GEMINI

May 21-June 20

Like most people born under the sign of Gemini, you have a theatrical aura that makes you a joy to be around. That enviable quality may open thrilling opportunities for great personal success.

Take an active part in all that goes on around you this week. Best favorite time to share happy thoughts with someone you hold dear.

If you're planning a vacation trip this year, make a firm commitment to try something totally different!

CANCER

June 21-July 22

Your Cancerian persistence has an adversary cowering on the ropes and ready to go down for the count. Keep slugging away! You'll see your chance to land the knockout punch soon.

You certainly do have trouble crediting yourself as others do. Take a good look — inside and out. You're in for a delightful surprise.

Make it a restful weekend with lots of sleep, a good book and soft music as major ingredients. And bread had to be hot a dozen ways to start.

LEO

July 23-Aug. 22

Your strong self-reliance may be overcome your Leo tendency to be easily hurt when a close friend steps on you. But no good reason. Instead of taking offense, laugh this friend's transgression off.

You've been doing much for others and the exertion of dealing with so many problems has left you feeling drained. Take time this weekend for yourself. A walk in the park or country followed by a leisurely meal will recharge you emotionally and physically.

VIRGO

Aug. 23-Sept. 22

Modesty is your biggest problem this week, Virgo. Stop blushing and staring at your feet when pals or even boss praise your efforts on a job well done.

The stars are romance is coming your way this weekend. Be ready for a special person to be drawn to your radiance and friendliness.

Friends have often kidded the cautious, shrewd Virgo, but your vigilance pays off when you avoid what could have been a tragic accident.

LIBRA

Sept. 23-Oct. 22

Be cautious around important people in your life this week as they may be irritable and prone to taking hasty action.

Buckle down and work hard and you'll stay out of trouble.

A persnickety person may be looking down his nose at you, but don't worry. You'll soon show him who's the better person.

Don't make vacation or travel plans. Your Libra tendency to plan ahead could cause you problems this week.

SCORPIO

Oct. 23-Nov. 21

Don't blow your top over trifles this week — but do stick up for yourself if anyone pushes you around. You sometimes tend to be too passive. Your planets indicate personal problems can be resolved easily if you use calm, but firm.

A valid man needs not be ruled by receptive and other help if it is needed and this would person will remember you kindly always.

Finances may be troubling, but try not to worry too much. A windfall is coming your way soon.

SAGITTARIUS

Nov. 22-Dec. 21

Hold your tongue this week, no matter what aggravations you face. You risk real trouble if you speak your mind to the point few days.

The Sagittarius rules also will figure importantly in events this week. It's a good time to make a major purchase.

You will make someone very happy this week, just by being you. And you can anticipate many enjoyable hours with someone close to you who will work you out for compensations.

CAPRICORN

Dec. 22-Jan. 19

This is a perfect time for Capricorns to show sociality, make new friends and charm strangers. Your customary ability to size people up quickly will come in handy.

The planets are favorable for a burst of energy. You'll feel better than you've felt in a long time.

Married Capricorns shouldn't let misunderstood get in the way of solving a nagging family problem. If you're really solved it you'll just give in a little. If you are single, put romance on hold for a while.

your birthday is this week . . .

Look out! The year ahead promises to be a roller coaster ride of fun laughs, a lot of good fortune and a few adversity -- but nothing you can't take in stride. Your love life will have its ups and downs. But at year's end you'll come out on top.

Financially, you appear to be on for a period of steady, solid growth. Take full advantage by saving as much as you possibly can. Of course, a splurge now and then won't hurt.

Strangers can have a dramatic impact on your life. Keep an open mind

AQUARIUS

Jan. 20-Feb. 18

Your Aquarius adventure may cost you a golden opportunity to make a lot of money. Don't ignore advice from someone just because they're not as educated as you.

One of your big problems often is an inability to just say "No." Why not be honest with yourself and everybody else instead of making up excuses. Just say "No."

You may be in for a big surprise this week. Listen carefully to friends and relatives. Heed the

PISCES

Feb. 19-Mar. 20

A close friend or relative may try to take advantage of your Pisces selflessness. There is a limit to what you can do to help.

You have been so busy getting through life on a day-to-day basis, you have neglected your creative talents. It's time to do something about that.

It's not easy to stay away from problems because they don't disappear. You may want to remember that this week and live your lives

Revenge!

Hubby finally gets even with the man who killed his wife

Revenge was Andre Laurent's only reason for living after the man who brutally raped and murdered his wife was let off with a prison term instead of being hanged.

By ALEX SCOTT

Fate gave the vengeful hubby a chance to even the score two years later when he was convicted of robbery and imprisoned — in the same cell with his wife's killer.

"I have prayed to God a thousand times for just five minutes alone with the scoundrel who destroyed my beloved Raja and ruined my life," said Laurent, a 6-foot-3, 240-pound trucker.

"And now there's no hurry. I have all the time I need to make him pay . . . and he WILL pay," he said.

Laurent, 43, was on the road in May of 1964 when a man broke into their home near Lyon, France, and raped his wife several times before strangling her.

Francois Jubert, a skinny farm worker with a record of minor sex offenses against children, was tried and convicted of her murder.

The unveiling slayer admitted the crime but escaped the hangman's noose because several workers testified he was abused as a child.

"You don't deserve to live, you pig," Laurent shouted as a judge ordered Jubert to prison for life.

"I vowed right then to avenge my wife's death if it took the rest of my life," Laurent told the newspaper Le Progrès after the trial.

The vengeful hubby tried to have a hit man inside the prison to do away with Jubert, but he didn't have enough money — so he tried to raise cash by rubbing a back.

But police caught him and he was sent to prison. Warden Alain Bernas assigned him to the cell with Jubert.

"You should have seen the look on Jubert's face when he saw his new cellmate," the warden said.

His lucky number cost him $6416

A wealthy Hong Kong businessman paid $641,000 for a license plate with his lucky number on it.

Law Ting-pong will put the license tag bearing the number 8 on his Rolls-Royce.

Many Hong Kong residents consider 8 a lucky number because as it is pronounced in the Cantonese Chinese dialect it sounds similar to the word meaning prosperity.

Diet Pills Sweeping U.S.

Doctors Invent 'Lazy Way' to Lose Weight

New 'Fat-Magnet' Diet Pill Guaranteed Fast Weight Loss

BEVERLY HILLS, CA (Special) — An amazing new weight loss pill called "fat-magnet" has recently been developed and perfected by two prominent doctors at a world famous hospital in Los Angeles that reportedly "guarantees" that you will easily lose fat by simply taking their tested and proven new pill.

No Dieting—Eat Normally

Best of all, you can continue to eat all of your favorite foods and you don't have to change your normal eating habits. You will start losing fat from the very first day, until you achieve the ideal weight and figure you desire."

There has never been anything like it before. It is a really new major medical breakthrough in weight loss (worldwide patent pending).

Pushes Fat Out of Body

The new pill is appropriately called the "fat-magnet" pill because it breaks into thousands of particles, each acting like a tiny magnet, "attracting" and trapping many times its size in fat particles. Then, all that trapped fat is naturally "flushed" right out of your body, because it cannot be digested.

Within 2 days you will notice a change in the color of your stool as the fat particles are being eliminated.

"Pills Do All the Work"

According to the doctors, the fat-magnet pills do all the work while you quickly lose fat with no starvation diet menus to follow, no calorie counting, no exercising, and no hunger pangs. It is 100% safe. You simply take the pills with a glass of water before meals.

The fat-magnet pills have just been offered to the American public and are already sweeping the country with record sales and reports of dramatic weight loss. It's the "lazy man" way to lose weight for people who enjoy eating.

Now Available to Public

If you need to lose 20, 30, 100 pounds or more, you can order your supply of these new highly successful fat-magnet pills (now available from the doctor's exclusive manufacturer by mail or phone order only) by sending $20 for a 90 pill supply (+$2 handling), or $35 for a 180 pill supply (+$3 handling), cash, check or money order to: Fat-Magnet, [illegible] Wilshire Blvd., Dept. 5534, Los Angeles, CA 90025. (Unconditional money-back guarantee if not 100% satisfied.) Visa, MasterCard and American Express OK. (Send card number, expire date, and signature.) For fastest service for credit card orders ONLY call anytime 24 hours, toll free [illegible]-537-9788, ext. 5534.

Funeral home worker used crematorium oven to destroy evidence of wife's murder, say cops

Cops say a funeral home worker settled a custody tussle with his ex-wife by killing her and cremating her corpse!

Authorities in Wichita, Kans., said Randy Pioletti, 29, kidnapped and murdered his 23-year-old ex-wife, Karen Haile, before disposing of her body at the funeral home where he worked cadaving mourners.

Prosecutor Ann Scruggs said Pioletti was married for about two years before divorcing his wife last October. The couple continued to fight over custody of their 2-year-old daughter, the prosecutor said.

Mary Kessinger, a friend of Pioletti, testified at a preliminary hearing that he told her, "If there's no body, there's no murder."

"He said all he had to do was grab her and put her in the van and take her out to the mortuary and cremate her," Miss Kessinger told Judge Keith Sanborn.

Donald Bremer, who worked with Pioletti at Lakeview Funeral Home, said Pioletti asked a lot of questions about how to operate the mortuary's crematorium even though Pioletti's job didn't involve cremations.

Bremer also recalled that about three months before the victim disappeared, Pioletti pointed at the crematorium and told him, "That would be a good way to get rid of Karen."

On the night of her disappearance Karen Haile had told friends that she stopped to meet her ex-husband at a restaurant. Her car was later found in the restaurant parking lot.

Bremer testified at the preliminary hearing that Pioletti left the funeral home for about 10 minutes the night his ex-wife vanished and came back to work with a cut over his eye and scratches on his hand.

The next morning Bremer said he called Pioletti in find out why the crematorium was warm and Pioletti told him he'd cremated a friend's dog.

The same morning Pioletti stopped at Miss Kessinger's house and told her he'd left a bucketful of rags in her garage. The woman later looked in the garage and saw what appeared to be a bucket filled with human ashes.

Authorities say the cremated remains are those of a woman who was 32 years old and stood five-feet, two-inches tall. That description matches Pioletti's ex-wife. Pioletti was ordered held without bond on charges of aggravated kidnap-

Countess Joan, wife of the Earl of Mount Edgcumbe, gave up the good life when she dumped her hubby and ran off with a handyman. Now she is barely scraping by — working in a pickle factory to earn her keep!

IN HAPPIER TIMES: The Earl of Mount Edgcumbe and his wife Joan before the split.

Lady Joan's odd jobs lover is gone and the Countess, 46, slaves every day in a dreary pickling plant in the shadow of the magnificent mansion where she used to live.

She prepares cucumbers and onions for bottling in a vinegar solution and peels hard-boiled eggs for the massive pickling vats.

Down-at-the-heels Lady Joan made headlines two years ago when she chose romance over rank, but now she refuses to speak with the press.

Yet reporters in the town of Crafthole, England, where she lives have found out plenty about her fall from wealth to poverty.

They say she lives now in a small cottage on the grounds of her former home.

Her husband the Earl shares his mansion with a barmaid, Beryl Cotterell, but poor Lady Joan lives a quiet, lonely life."

Yuppie puppy uses paw print to cash checks

A Daddy Warbucks doggie named Doc has so much dough he's opened his very own bank account — and uses his paw print to cash checks all over town.

Dog lovers Susan and Kenneth Whitehead set up the account for their money-bags mutt at a London, England, bank. And Doc immediately cashed a $13 check to buy himself a custom-made dog tag.

"Normally we would not accept a check from a new client who is a minor," said a spokesman for Chown Jewelers, where the yappie Yuppie [illegible] the Whiteheads' personal guarantee that their canine was trustworthy.

When Ken and Susan got a parking ticket while shopping for Doc's toy they made their well-heeled hound pay the fine.

"The check was initially sent back with a note saying there was no signature," Susan said. "But when I pointed out that the paw print was the signature, there was no problem."

now she's working at the pickling factory," said the Earl of Mount Edgcumbe, who set up housekeeping with Beryl shortly after Joan walked out.

"Perhaps it's good occupational therapy for her. Working hard for a living is very satisfying. It puts things in perspective."

Lady Joan's story was first revealed in NEWS readers in March, 1968, when the brunette mother of five ran off with a local laborer Brian Mobinson, 43. At the time the blue blooded runaway thought she was headed for eternal happiness.

"My marriage is over for good," she announced.

"I always believe that life goes on and it's no good having regrets.

"I will spend tonight with Brian and we will take each day as it comes.

"It has all been like a soap opera."

Unfortunately, love didn't last for the Lady and her sweetheart. And now that she's on her own, the terrible sacrifice she made is apparent.

"I loved being a Lady," she said wistfully.

"But, unfortunately, what's done is done."

Car wrecks kill every 10 minutes

Someone dies in a car wreck every 10 minutes of every day of the year and auto accidents injure someone every nine seconds in the U.S.

These startling statistics were reported by Jack Gillis, author of The Car Book. He says points out 45,000 people are killed and four million others injured each year in auto accidents.

There also is a major airline crash with no survivors every day of the year.

TV shopping fan runs up $30,000 bill, charge police

A 36-year-old man was so addicted to the bargains available from television shopping clubs that he charged a whopping $30,000 worth of goods to credit card accounts that didn't belong to him, say cops.

Long Island resident James Tindal was charged with the use of unauthorized access devices after a Secret Service investigation and released from jail on a $10,000 personal recognizance bond, authorities said.

"He used to stay up and watch those late-night shopping shows," said Det. Robert Flach, of the Nassau County Police forgery squad.

"Then he would call those 800 phone numbers and order items, and a parcel service would deliver them."
